OCR field mapping test - proof report

PClaimAssist research tests, Objective 3 (ii) with OCR input - generated 2026-11-05

Result. When the forms are filled straight from what the OCR read (PaddleOCR + Correction, scanner scans), with no staff correction, 1444 of 1444 scored boxes hold exactly what was read - 100.0% mapping accuracy after the fixes (99.79% before, 3 mapping errors before, 0 after). End-to-end, 39.93% of boxes hold the correct (answer-key) value: the rest are OCR misreads that land in the right box. The OCR, not the mapping, limits the end-to-end result.

Provisional. Uses the same expected box table as the field mapping test, which has not yet been checked against the paper forms (Groupmate 2).

1. Result at a glance

Mapping accuracy on OCR input (does the reading land in the right box?)

Form	Boxes scored before / after	Before	After
CSF	529 / 529	100.0%	100.0%
CF1	98 / 98	97.96%	100.0%
CF2	426 / 426	100.0%	100.0%
CF4	374 / 383	99.73%	100.0%
PMRF	8 / 8	100.0%	100.0%
All forms	1435 / 1444	99.79%	100.0%

End-to-end accuracy (OCR + mapping: the box holds the answer-key value)

Form	Patients	Boxes before / after	Before	After
CSF	20	529 / 529	41.21%	41.21%
CF1	20	161 / 164	63.98%	68.9%
CF2	20	427 / 427	35.13%	35.13%
CF4	13	396 / 388	31.82%	29.9%
PMRF	2	21 / 22	66.67%	63.64%
All forms	20	1534 / 1530	39.83%	39.93%

Every checked box by cause

Cause	Before	After
Correct	611	611
OCR misread (in the right box)	912	918
Mapping (not what was read)	3	0
Filled by a system rule (no usable reading)	8	1

Reading the end-to-end change. CF1 gains 10 correct boxes (the mailing Barangay, Fix 1). CF4 loses 10: in those boxes the OCR'd date could not be read, so the system had no time - and before Fix 4 CF4 still ticked its default AM, which happened to match the true time. After the fix CF4 ticks nothing when there is no time, so the boxes are honestly empty (and the review would ask staff for the date). The 8 "filled by a system rule" boxes before the fixes are those default AM ticks; the 1 after is a discharge time filled by the "discharged 24 hours after admission" rule when the time read (05:60 PM) was unusable.

2. How the test works and how to read the pictures

The field mapping test gives the forms the confirmed values. This test gives them what the OCR actually read. Each of the 20 fictional test patients comes from one handwritten logbook row (column "Source (writer, row)" of the answer key, e.g. W02 row 7). That row's scanner scan was read by the handwriting test; its PaddleOCR + Correction reading - the system's own OCR and correction - goes through the system unchanged:

review page pre-fill (review_fields.suggest_parts) → staff press Submit without editing (review_fields.normalize) → case_bridge.draft_patient_and_encounter → form_prefill.build_form_data → the real forms page (Microsoft Edge) → the PDF "Save as PDF" makes.

Two scores per box. Mapping: the box holds what was read, in the box's format (the value the reading gives for that box). End-to-end: the box holds the answer-key value. Address boxes are scored for mapping only when the whole address was read right, because splitting a misread address has no independent answer. Typed values (PINs, member type, ...) come from the task packet as in the field mapping test.

The pictures. Each is the saved PDF as is, with every checked box outlined: green = correct value; orange = wrong value but not a mapping error (the OCR misread it, or nothing usable was read and a rule of the system filled the box); red = a mapping error - the box does not hold what was read. "expected: ..." under a box is the answer-key value.

The forms checked depend on the claim the system builds: a misread diagnosis can change the package, so fewer patients get CF4 or PMRF here than in the confirmed-value test.

Input	the same OCR readings (handwriting test, scanner, PaddleOCR + Correction) and the same expected box table

3. The OCR readings fed to the system

180 logbook cells (9 per patient). Exactly right: 23 (12.8%). These are the handwriting test's readings, unchanged.

4. What was fixed - before and after

The same branch as the field mapping report (Fixes 1-3: mailing address on CF1 and PMRF, subdivision names ending in -VILLE), plus one fix this test found:

Fix 4 - CF4 ticked AM when there was no time. The admission and discharge AM/PM choice starts at AM. CF4 printed that choice as its tick, so a claim with no time still showed AM. CF2 already ticks AM/PM from the time itself. Change: PClaimAssist/js/pdf/overlays/cf4.js - the four AM/PM boxes now follow the time, as on CF2: no time, no tick.

5. Check in the real system

The real PClaimAssist app (its routes, sign-in check and database) was run with the fixed code and /index.html opened in Microsoft Edge 156.0.4314.58, signed in as admin@email.com. Values were typed into the real Patient details boxes and CF4 built with the "Save as PDF" code. Nothing was saved.

Scenario C - Dates typed, no times (CF4 AM/PM)

Typed: dateAdmitted = 2026-09-05, dateDischarge = 2026-09-06

CF4 admitted: time (blank), tick none; discharged: time (blank), tick none.

Scenario D - Dates and times typed (CF4 AM/PM)

Typed: dateAdmitted = 2026-09-05, timeAdmitted = 16:00, dateDischarge = 2026-09-06, timeDischarge = 09:30

CF4 admitted: time 0400, tick PM; discharged: time 0930, tick AM.

Result: in the real app, CF4 ticks no AM/PM when no time is given, and the right one when it is (16:00 → PM, 09:30 → AM). The mailing-address fixes are shown live in the field mapping report.

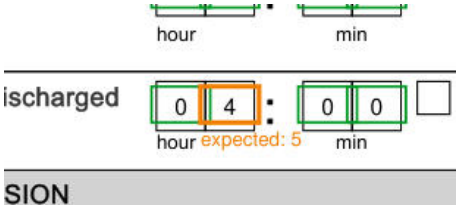

6. Where the wrong boxes come from (after the fixes)

After the fixes, 918 wrong boxes are OCR misreads in the right box (orange in the pictures), 0 are mapping errors, and 1 was filled by a system rule because the reading was unusable. In other words, every value the OCR read went to the box it belongs in; what is wrong is the reading itself. The handwriting report (Objective 3 (i)) measures that reading accuracy. In the clinic, the review step is where staff correct these readings before a claim is made.

R02 CF4 - Went home time (Filled by a system rule (no usable reading)): read 09-06-26 05:60PM, box shows 4, answer key 5

7. Is it usable?

Check	Result
Readings landing in the right box (mapping on OCR input)	100.0% (1444 of 1444)
Mapping errors	0 (were 3)
Printed PDF agrees with the screen	every box
Real app: CF4 AM/PM with and without a time	correct
End-to-end with no staff correction	39.93% - limited by the handwriting OCR

Yes - the field mapping works on OCR input. Whatever the OCR reads is put in the right box, in the right format, on every form. The forms are only as correct as the reading, which is why the review step stays: with no staff correction, about 4 in 10 boxes are right end-to-end.

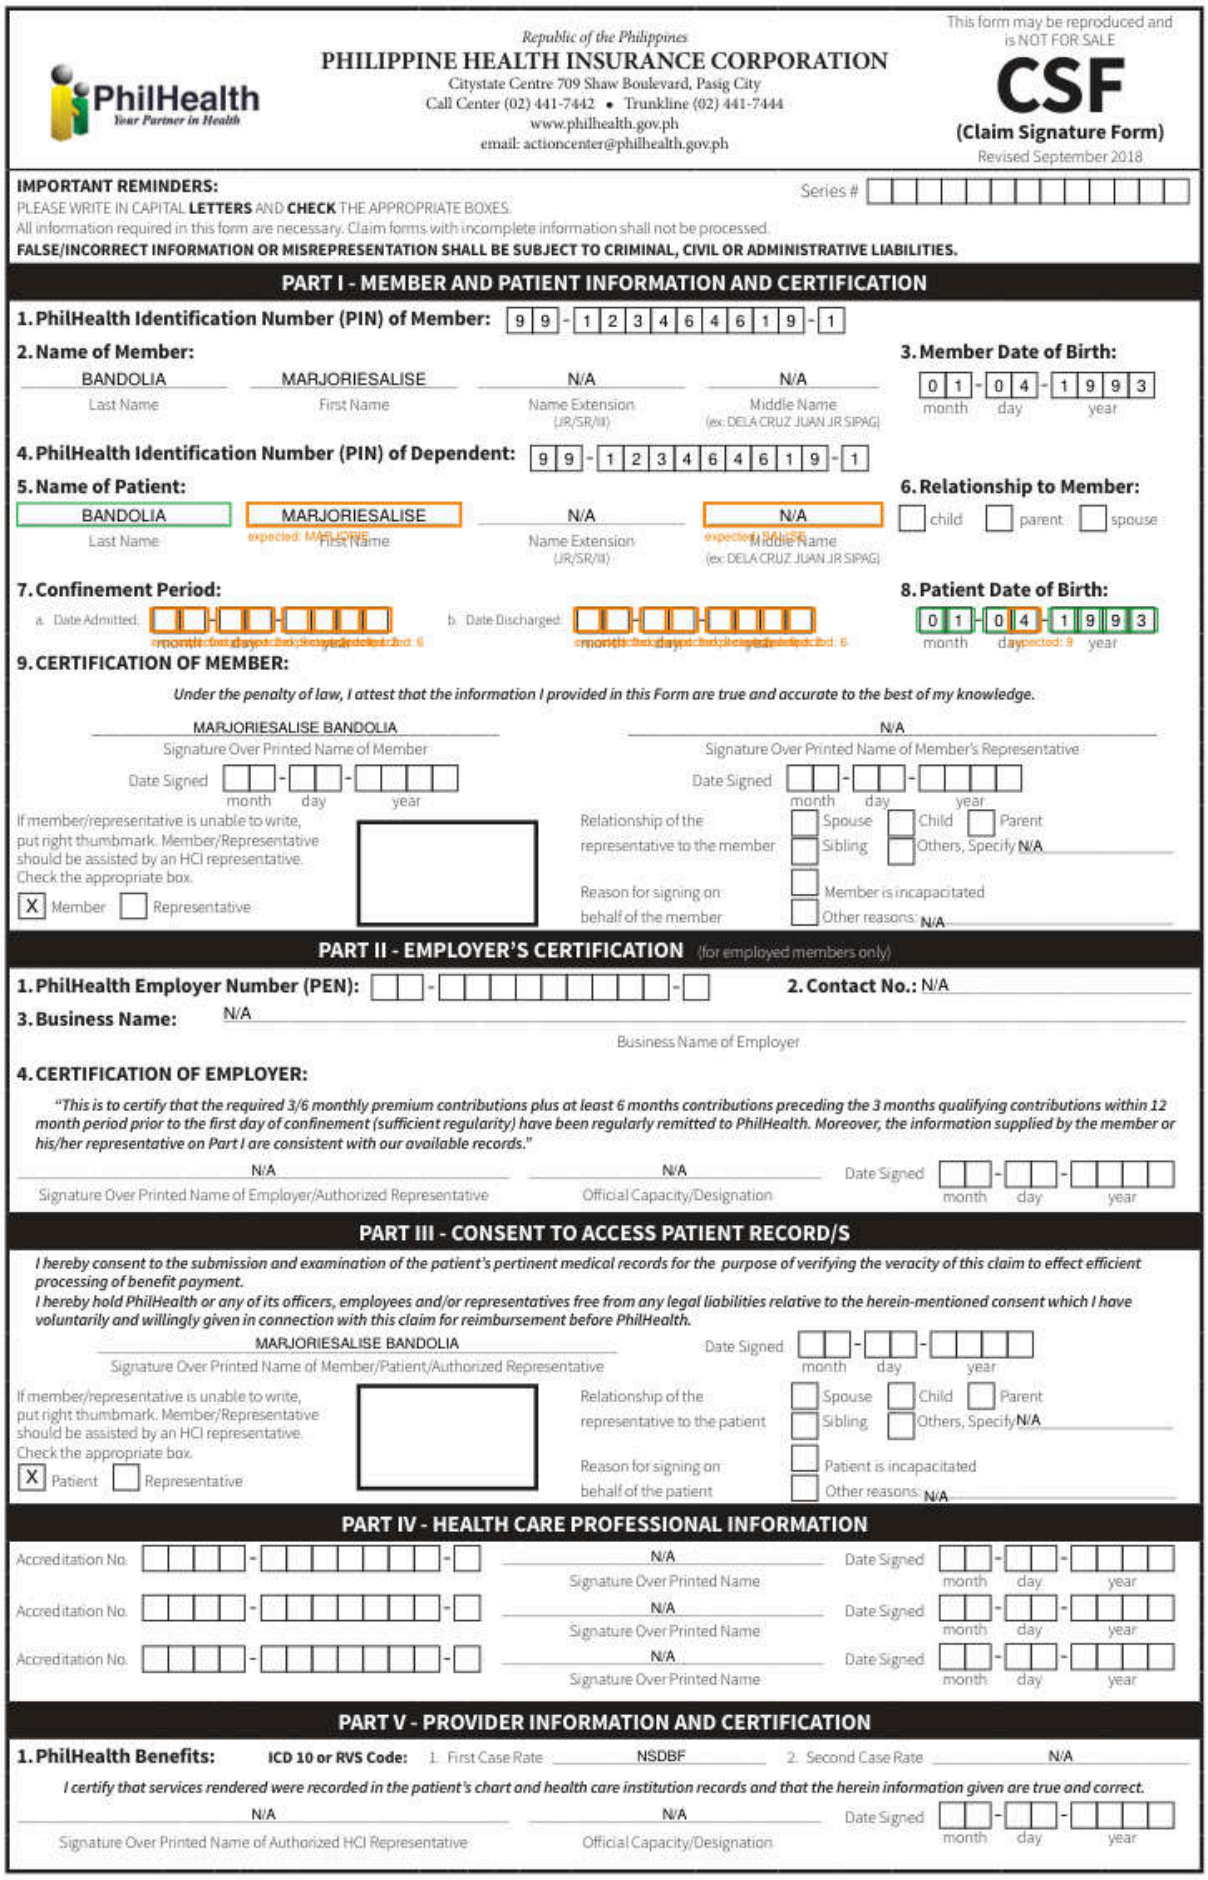

Before relying on the fixes: restart the backend (PClaimAssist.bat) and reload the forms with Ctrl+F5; the fixes are on branch jrad/field-mapping-fixes, not merged; the result stays provisional until the expected box table is checked against the paper forms.
