Field mapping test - proof report

PClaimAssist research tests, Objective 3 (ii), Eq. 3.6 - generated 2026-11-05

Result. Field mapping accuracy went from 96.99% (43 wrong boxes) before the fixes to 99.58% (6 wrong boxes) after, over 20 test patients and 1428 boxes. The 6 that remain are not boxes filled in the wrong place: see Remaining mismatches.

Provisional. The expected box table (inputs/field_mapping_expected.csv) has not yet been checked against the paper forms (Groupmate 2). The pictures in this report are meant to make that check quick.

1. Result at a glance

Form	Patients	Boxes checked before / after	Accuracy before	Accuracy after	Wrong boxes before / after
CSF	20	529 / 529	99.81%	99.81%	1 / 1
CF1	20	161 / 162	81.99%	98.15%	29 / 3
CF2	20	427 / 427	99.77%	99.77%	1 / 1
CF4	8	246 / 246	99.59%	99.59%	1 / 1
PMRF	6	67 / 64	83.58%	100.0%	11 / 0
All forms	20	1430 / 1428	96.99%	99.58%	43 / 6

Eq. 3.6: field mapping accuracy = boxes holding the correct value / boxes checked x 100. In both runs every box was also read back from the saved PDF, and the printed value agreed with the on-screen value in every box (printed correctly % = accuracy %).

The number of boxes checked changes slightly (1430 to 1428) because a box is checked when the answer key gives it a value or the form fills it. Before the fix, PMRF printed a Street (RAMONAVILLE) the answer key leaves empty; after it, those boxes are empty as expected and drop out, while one CF1 Street box now shows a value it did not before.

Wrong boxes by cause

Cause	Before	After	Status
Mailing address Street / Barangay printed N/A (CF1, PMRF)	37	0	Fixed
Subdivision RAMONAVILLE printed as the Street (PMRF)	3	0	Fixed
Name punctuation: MA. CECILIA printed MA CECILIA	3	3	Intended (forms rule)
Area name kept in Street (MT. VIEW, FATIMA) - not in the answer key	0	3	Answer-key coding

The last row is 0 before the fix only because those three boxes printed N/A then, so they were counted under the first row.

2. How the test works and how to read the pictures

For each of the 20 fictional test patients (R01-R20, sheet Patients of inputs/answer_key.xlsx), the confirmed logbook values go through the real auto-population, unedited: case_bridge.draft_patient_and_encounter → form_prefill.build_form_data → the real forms page (PClaimAssist/index.html, in Microsoft Edge). Each box listed in the expected box table is compared with the value worked out from the answer key alone, and the PDF the page saves (buildFilledPdf, the code behind "Save as PDF") is read back to check the value is printed in that box.

The pictures. Each picture is that saved PDF, rendered as is. The test then draws an outline on every box it checked: green = the box holds the expected value, red = it does not, with "expected: ..." written underneath in red. Boxes with no outline were not part of the test (nothing expected and nothing printed, or a box the answer key does not cover).

3. What was fixed - before and after

Fix 1 - CF1 mailing address printed N/A for Street and Barangay

Problem. The mailing City and Province boxes start filled with DAVAO CITY / DAVAO DEL SUR (a convenience default). The page took those two defaults as a mailing address given, so CF1 stopped using the home address and printed only City and Province, with N/A for Street and Barangay.

Change. PClaimAssist/js/app.js, mailingGiven(): a mailing part that still holds its untouched default no longer counts as a mailing address given. When staff type a mailing address, it is used as before.

Before - patient R02, CF1

After - patient R02, CF1

Before - patient R08, CF1

After - patient R08, CF1

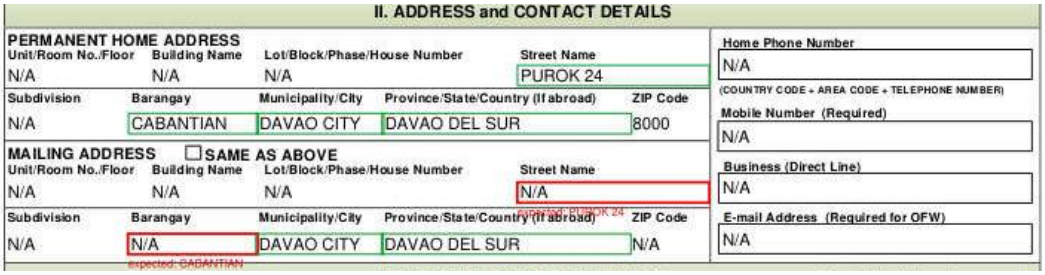

Full pages: after | before

Fix 2 - PMRF mailing address printed N/A for Street and Barangay

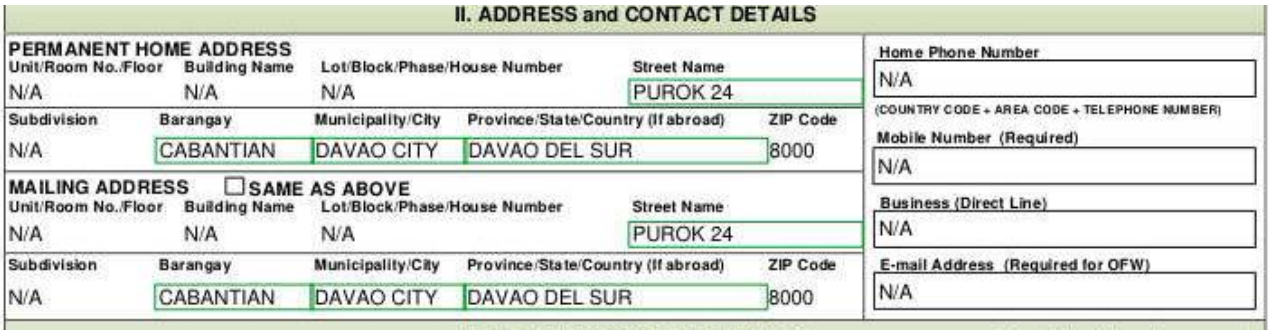

Problem. The PMRF mailing boxes printed the mailing fields directly, so with no mailing address typed they showed only the defaulted City and Province.

Change. PClaimAssist/js/pdf/overlays/pmrf.js: the PMRF mailing boxes follow the same rule as CF1 - the mailing address if one was given, otherwise the home address.

Before - patient R07, PMRF

After - patient R07, PMRF

Fix 3 - subdivision RAMONAVILLE read as the Street

Problem. The logbook address parser recognises a subdivision only by a keyword (HOMES, VILLAGE, SUBDIVISION, ...). A one-word name ending in -VILLE has none, so it was left over and put into Street.

Change. Ocr_module/philhealth/address_parser.py: one word ending in VILLE (RAMONAVILLE, DACOVILLE) is a subdivision. Unit test added in Ocr_module/test_address_mapping.py.

4. Check in the real system

The test above runs the real forms page offline. To confirm the fix in the system itself, the real PClaimAssist app (Ocr_module/app.py: its routes, sign-in check and database) was run with the fixed code and the real /index.html opened in Microsoft Edge 156.0.4314.58, signed in as admin@email.com. A fictional address was typed into the real Patient details boxes, then CF1 and PMRF were built with the same code as "Save as PDF". Nothing was saved to the database. Page errors: none.

Scenario A - No mailing address typed

Typed: addrStreet = PUROK 22, addrBarangay = CABANTIAN

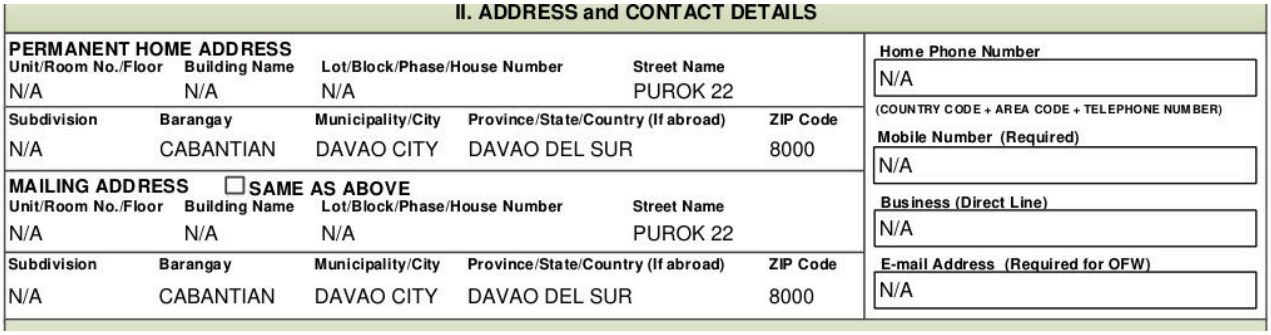

CF1: mailing Street = PUROK 22, Barangay = CABANTIAN - expected the home address (PUROK 22, CABANTIAN)

Result: in the real app, the mailing address on CF1 and PMRF is the home address when none is typed, and the typed one when it is.

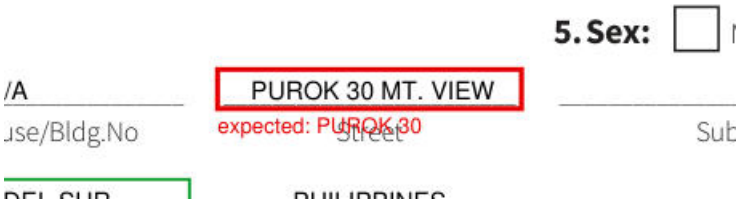

The address-parser fix (Fix 3) is in the Python backend. It is covered by the unit test and by the test runs above. The running server picks it up once restarted (PClaimAssist.bat); this check did not restart it, and did not save a logbook page, because that would write to the database.

5. Remaining mismatches (after the fixes): 6

MA. CECILIA printed as MA CECILIA (R19 on CSF, CF2, CF4). Intended: PClaimAssist prints names without punctuation ("Jr." → "JR", "Ma.Liza" → "MA LIZA"; Ocr_module/philhealth/review_fields.py, clean_name_part). The value is in the right box; only the period differs. Either the answer key writes the name the way the forms print it, or this is reported as the forms' formatting rule.

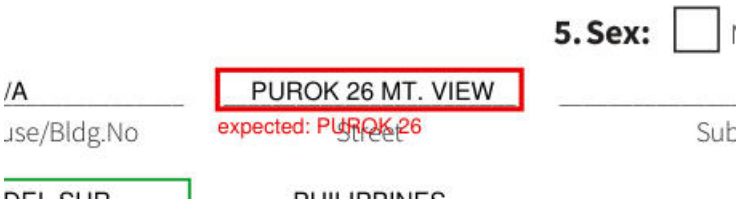

PUROK 30 MT. VIEW, PUROK 26 MT. VIEW, FATIMA in CF1 Street (R04, R15, R18). The logbook address includes an area name (MT. VIEW, FATIMA) that the answer key has no column for, so the answer key leaves it out. PClaimAssist keeps what was written in Street rather than dropping it. These boxes printed N/A before Fix 1, which is why they only show up now.

R04 CF1 - Street (cf1MailingAddrStreet)

expected PUROK 30, printed PUROK 30 MT. VIEW

R15 CF1 - Street (cf1MailingAddrStreet)

expected PUROK 26, printed PUROK 26 MT. VIEW

R18 CF1 - Street (cf1MailingAddrStreet)

expected (empty), printed FATIMA

R19 CSF - First name (patientFirstName)

expected MA. CECILIA, printed MA CECILIA

R19 CF2 - First name (patientFirstName)

expected MA. CECILIA, printed MA CECILIA

R19 CF4 - First name (cf4PatientFirstName)

expected MA. CECILIA, printed MA CECILIA

6. Is it usable?

Check	Result
Field mapping test, 20 patients, all forms	99.58% (1422 of 1428 boxes)
Printed PDF agrees with the screen	every box
Real app: mailing address on CF1 and PMRF	correct in both scenarios
Backend unit tests (Ocr_module, 382 tests)	all pass
Wrong boxes left that are mapping errors	none

Yes - the fixes work in the system and can be used. Before relying on them:

1. Restart the backend (PClaimAssist.bat) and reload the forms with Ctrl+F5, so the running server uses the new code.
2. The fixes are on branch jrad/field-mapping-fixes and are not merged yet.
3. For Chapter 5, the field mapping result stays provisional until the expected box table is checked against the paper forms, and the group decides how to treat the 6 remaining mismatches (section 5).
